

From: (1953, December). Just Once a Month, 33, (3). [Publication of the Kendall School].

Gallaudet College Students Doing Practice Teaching in The Kendall School
ACADEMIC	Audrian Kukleski	David Carlson, Printing
Winona Alter	William Ludwig	Medford Magill, Woodworking
Louis Boley	Alice Sandstrom	Otis Massey, Typing, Div. II
Robert Greathouse	Eleanor Wetzel	Betty O'Rourke, Sewing
Andrew Foster, Division II	VOCATIONAL	Leonard Peacock, Physical Ed.
Robert Hughes	Marwood Burr, Printing	Dolores Ramirez, Cooking
Teruko Kubotsu	Etta Cabbage, Physical Ed.	Virginia Whitesides, Sewing

Kendall students write about Andrew Foster (and Otis Massey) as practice teachers at Kendall. From: (1953, December). Just Once a Month, 33 (3).

DIVISION II

Practice Teachers

Mr. Andrew Foster, a senior at Gallaudet College is doing his practice teaching in social studies. He teaches Robert Milburn and me for five days a week.

We are happy to have him for awhile because he makes it easier for us to understand our history lesson.

Mr. Otis Massey, a junior at the college, is our typing teacher. He teaches typing two afternoons each week.

It is not very hard for me as I have had typing before and I understand very well what he is teaching. He is very good at teaching.

I think it is nice to have two teachers from the college. I am very fond of them.

—Mary Arnold.

News

Sunday night three car loads of deaf boys and girls went to Janice Boyd's house. She was happy to see all of us.

Later on all of us went to church at 9th and P. Street where Mr. Foster preached a sermon. It was very interesting to all of the deaf people there. Mr. Foster is a senior at Gallaudet College.

After the church service we came back to school.

—Donald Ruffin.